

Model Sentences: Arguments

Thesis sentence (choose 1 pattern)

1. This paper argues that specific topic for three major reasons.
This paper argues that World War I (WW1) was a watershed event in human history for three major reasons.
2. This paper argues that specific topic for three major reasons: list of three reasons in parallel grammatical form.
This paper argues that feminism is still relevant for three major reasons: cultural discrimination, workplace discrimination, and political discrimination.
3. This paper argues that specific topic, for statement of three reasons in sentence form.
This paper argues that World War I (WW1) was a watershed event in human history, for it led to the rise of nationalism, it changed modern warfare, and it diminished the acceptance of war as an acceptable method of resolving geopolitical conflicts.
4. Specific topic, for statement of three reasons in sentence form.
World War I (WW1) was a watershed event in human history, for it led to the rise of nationalism, it changed modern warfare, and it diminished the acceptance of war as an acceptable method of resolving geopolitical conflicts.

Topic sentence for first argument (choose 1 pattern)

1. The first major reason why supporters contend/maintain that specific topic is first argument.
The first major reason why supporters maintain that WW1 was watershed event in human history is it changed modern warfare.
2. The first major argument for specific topic is first argument.
The first major argument for Evita Peron being a modern-day hero is she lived a life worth imitating.
3. First argument is the first argument why specific topic.
Evita Peron lived a life worth imitating is the first argument why she is a modern-day hero.

Topic sentence for second argument (choose 1 pattern)

1. Not only can it be argued that first argument, but also it can argued that second argument.
Not only can it be argued that WW1 altered modern warfare, but also it can be argued that this watershed event made war as a method for resolving geopolitical conflicts unacceptable.

2. A second argument for specific topic is second argument.

A second argument for Evita Peron being a modern-day hero is she served principles larger than herself.

Topic sentence for final argument (choose 1 pattern)

1. A final argument for specific topic is third argument.

A final argument for WW1 being a watershed event in human history is it led to the feudalism giving way to nationalism.

2. A final argument by supporters of specific topic is third argument.

A final argument by supporters of Evita Peron being a modern-day hero is she had profound respect for human life.

Topic sentence for conclusion paragraph (choose 1 pattern)

In conclusion/In summary, it can be argued that specific topic for several reasons.

In conclusion, it can be argued that feminism is still relevant for several major reasons.